

Specialists in mechanical design, modification & improvements

Nothing can be more frustrating than trying to get a job done but not having the right tools to do it.

With the correct piece of equipment or machinery any job can be made easy and that's where Cartner Design Services Limited can lend a helping hand.

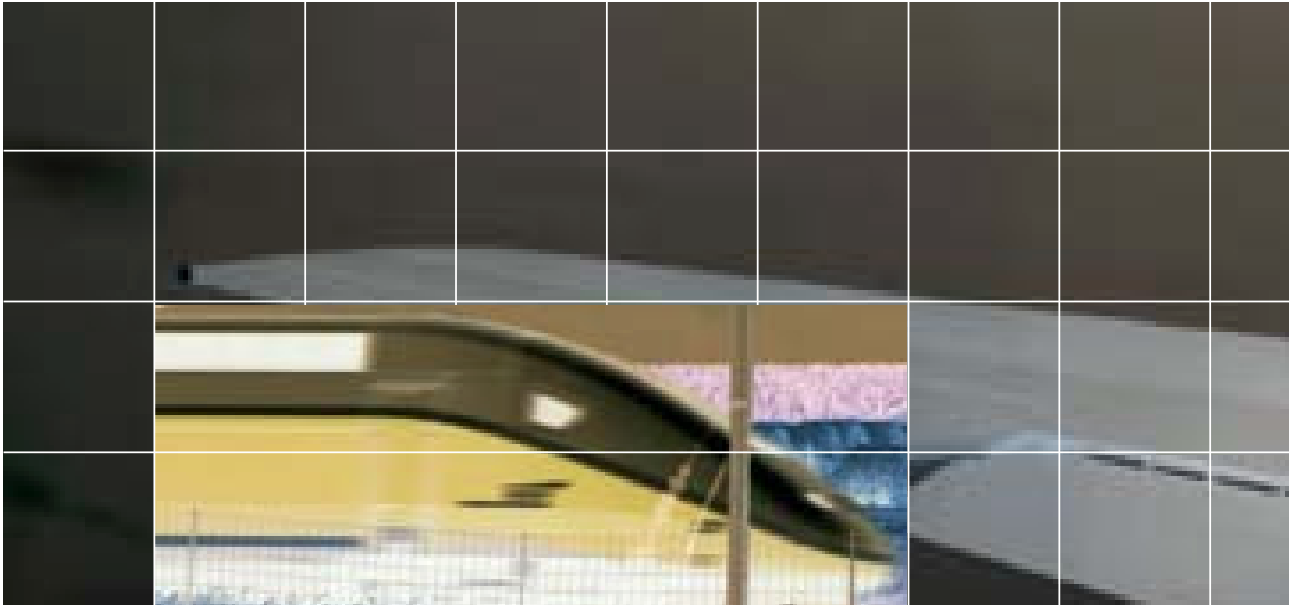

Whether it is special purpose machinery you need designing or simply something that requires modifying or improving, Cartner's experienced team of mechanical design engineers can come up with the perfect solution.

The London-based firm can also organise the manufacture of items and can call upon the expertise of highly qualified electrical engineers, if required.

And you don't even have to know exactly what you are after. A team of highly skilled mechanical design engineers are readily available to discuss your requirements and come back to you with what you require, promptly and efficiently.

Our promise

- Our mechanical design engineers, detailers, checkers and CAD operators have a vast wealth of experience in all areas.
- Fast and efficient designs are guaranteed by designers who know what can and can't be achieved.
- The price and scope are agreed at the start and that will be the cost
- If we agree a timescale and delivery date we keep to it and promise to keep you updated throughout.
- Intellectual property is safeguarded and confidentiality is assured.
- Our designs fully comply with health and safety regulations.
